

Christmas 1954

Dearest Bonnie,

It's Christmas! - No better time to tell you that I dearly love you in spite of the very many times you must have wondered. All through this year as in the past - you've been pretty wonderful to us. So the girl I'd like to be able to give a million dollars - it seems a shame that my gift must be limited to a few small items and this small amount. I know there are many things that you could use and deserve. A new dress, new shoes, a blouse or hat - things which I couldn't find had I looked all year. I hope that this will be a means towards a few of those items.

Merry Christmas dear and God Bless You for being my wife and the mother of our boys. All my love,
Earl

Christmas 1954

Dearest Bonnie,

It's Christmas! - No better time to tell you that I dearly love you in spite of the very many times you must have wondered. All through this year as in the past - you've been pretty wonderful to us. To the girl I'd like to be able to give a million dollars - it seems a shame that my gift must be limited to a few small items and this small amount. I know there are many things that you could use and deserve. A new dress, new shoes, a blouse or hat - things which I couldn't find had I looked all year. I hope that this will be a means towards a few of those items.

Merry Christmas dear and God Bless You for being my wife and the mother of our boys.

All my love, Earl