

Succumbs To Mishap Injuries

Funeral services for A. Lee Vandeventer, 57, Hamilton dairy farmer, were held in Waterford Presbyterian Church on Wednesday by the Rev. B. F. Ferguson, pastor of the church. Burial was made in Union Cemetery, Leesburg.

The pallbearers were Albert Carr, Dr. John Monroe, J. D. Tribby, Joseph Spring, Ben Hickam and W. M. Hickam.

Mr. Vandeventer died in George Washington University Hospital, Washington, on Monday night, one week after suffering fatal injuries in felling a tree on his farm.

Mr. Vandeventer was regarded as an outstanding citizen, was widely known and his friends were legion. There was widespread sorrow over his tragic death.

Mr. Vandeventer was a son of the late Albert D. and Emma Whitmore Vandeventer, of Loudoun. He attended V. P. I. before taking up farming here. He had long been a member of the Planters Club, a county farm organization. He was a deacon of Catoctin Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Vandeventer is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anne Graham Vandeventer, and one daughter, Mrs. H. Melvin Ryon, of Falls Church.
